II. Guidelines for writing manuscripts

Guidelines for writing manuscripts not stated in these instructions can be found on the homepage of the JKSOEH (<http://www.kiha.kr>)

1. Preparing manuscript

All manuscripts should be prepared according to the editing rules of JKSOEH. Manuscript will not be considered for publication unless they are prepared according to these rules. Use the manuscript template provided by the website of JKSOEH(<http://www.ksoeh.org/jksoeh>) for the first and the final(only after acceptance for publication) manuscript. The prepared manuscript should be submitted only through the website with the address above. Enter the corresponding author's name with contact information and upload the prepared manuscript file in Hangul or MS Word format with a filename like 'short version of the article title.hwp or title.doc' at the same website.

2. List of content

The list of content is as followings: Title page, Main text, Appendix, Acknowledgment, and References.

3. Title page

In manuscript written in Korean, title, author name, and affiliation should be written in Korean. The same information should also be presented in English. The Corresponding author should provide phone and email information in bottom left side of the first manuscript page.

4. Format of manuscript

Manuscript written in Korean should comprise its content in the following order: Abstract, Introduction, Material and Methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusion, Acknowledgment, and References, Tables, and Figures. Abstract may prepare a structured abstract of no more than 250 english words, with information arranged under the following subheadings - Objectives, Methods, Results, and Conclusions. Key words should contain at least 6 key words or phrases.

5. Tables and Figures

For all manuscripts, all Tables and Figures should be written in English. Title should start with Capital letter and end with non period. When citing Table and Figure, it should be written as Table 1 or Figure 1. Tables and Figures are placed after the references section. Figure should be prepared in a high resolution file.

6. References

All the references should be written only English and be sorted in alphabetical order. The abbreviated name of each journal should be given in the references. In the main text, reference should be cited by name and year in the parenthesis. If two or more references are cited, they should be divided by semicolon. Some examples of the references are as follows;
